Extensive Improvement Program Nears End

WELCOME FOR STUDENTS IS AIM OF NEWS

This Section Devoted To Western Teachers College Material

CITY GLAD TO SEE ALL Hand of Fellowship Extended To Those Enrolling On College Heights

The purpose of this supplement to the DAILY NEWS is to welcome to Bowling Green the approximately 1,000 students at present enrolled at Western Teachers College. In the comparative short time of its existence, the Teachers College has grown to be an important factor in the life of Bowling Green and members of its faculty and student body have become leaders in many civic enterprises.

Over two thousand students here each year and the members of the faculty, many of them with families, who live here the year around, make an important addition to the commercial life of the city.

Last school year there was an attendance of 2,420 student teachers exclusive of the thirteen grades in the Training School and those in the Model Rural School. Some 2,000 students in the Extension Course, the correspondence department, also received training at Western.

When all of the branches of instruction of the school are grouped, it is seen that practically 6,000 individuals are "reached" through Western agencies last year.

The school now provides work for the kindergarten year to the bachelor's degree in college. The kindergarten is one of the best equipped in the country and is attended by the best of the north and other classes of student teachers from other colleges come here to receive the methods employed in the local school.

Likewise, the work in the grades is of the highest type, and the highest grade given to second year schools. The college department work is also given full recognition by the State Board of Education. All of the work the school attempts as first class.

Bowling Green formerly was accused of failure to appreciate the large number of students in the city every year, many of them attending other schools than Western. The Bowling Green Business University and Oglethorpe College, but it is believed by civic leaders that now the schools looked upon by citizens as the city's greatest asset.

SEVENTY-FIVE ON WESTERN FACULTY AT PRESENT TIME

All Are Well Trained College Men and Women

The faculty of Western Teachers College is now made up of seventy-five college-trained men and women. Of this number, five hold the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, twenty-five have the Master's degree and all others have the Bachelor's degree.

As described in one of the school bulletins, "The faculty is composed of men and women selected only after long and patient study. They represent the highest in scholarship, sympathy and personality. It is their desire to render students all possible service, not alone in the classroom, but in the various other ways which arise outside.

Member of the faculty of the school and a lady's prominent part in the civic life of Bowling Green has been constantly in demand to aid in various community enterprises in every section of the state.

A number of members of the faculty have written books pertaining in their work and some of them have been adopted in some schools as textbooks.

Can't Under Had Luck—ODDSDOWN, N. Y. A salesman laden with traveling cases was hurrying to catch a ferry when a black cat dashed across the street ahead of him. To avoid the feline he turned and walked around the block to approach the ferry from a street the cat hadn't crossed. Two minutes later the salesman trudged back in his hotel, baggage and all. "Avoiding that cat," he lamented, "made me miss my boat."

First of Newer Buildings

Beautiful in every line is the Administration Building of Western. This was the first building constructed at the new campus on College Heights after the plant of Potter College had been taken over by the State.

High above the surrounding country, the beautiful Grecian structure may be seen for miles and has become a landmark for the surrounding country. The view from the steps of the building unfolds a panorama of Bowling Green surrounded with hundreds of acres of the finest farm land in the section.

This building, in addition to the administrative offices, contains the school auditorium which seats about 2,500 people.

Home Economics Building

Completed and put into service only last semester, the Home Economics Building is one of the most beautiful and useful in the College Heights plant. This building was constructed largely of material taken from the old Cabell Hall that was removed to make room for the new library building, but it is modern throughout.

Work of value to the home builders of Kentucky is taught in this department and others who receive this training are in demand in other schools over the state.

This building is located on the south side of the campus near the new music hall. In beautifying the grounds about the two buildings, a new section of the campus has been opened.

Sixty-Five Acre Farm Is Used As Source For Food

Western Dormitory Tables Supplied By Produce From School Land

HAVE FINE HERD, ALSO Agronomy Students Also Get Training At First Hand

Western Teachers College owns and operates a sixty-five acre farm on the campus. This farm is used for demonstration purposes and as a source of food supply for the school community.

The activities on the farm are conducted under the leadership of poultry raising, dairying, truck raising, live stock raising, and general farming. These activities allow ample opportunity for students in agricultural classes to observe standard practices in farm operations.

The poultry plant embraces a poultry instruction house with incubator, cellar. Twenty-five incubators are operated by the students for instruction and practical purposes. The brooder houses have a capacity of over 100,000 chicks. Six colony houses have a combined capacity of 1,000 hens. Poultry of different breeds of poultry are raised for instructional purposes.

The dairy consists of a herd of sixteen Holstein cows, fourteen of which are pure bred. The dairy is equipped with milking machines, power milker, boiler for sterilizing milk, and heating and bottling machines.

The truck garden area embraces approximately twenty acres of fertile land. Students are provided with opportunities for practice in hot-bed construction, transplanting of plants, etc. Production methods are used in the operation of truck lands.

The live stock equipment includes the leading breeds of beef cattle and pigs. These animals are fed under the direction of the department of Agriculture and are used for work in teaching in animal husbandry classes. The hog plant is complete with farrowing house and judging pavilion. The surplus live stock is slaughtered and delivered to the city.

WESTERN NOT VERY OLD AS SCHOOLS RUN

College Has Been State Institution Only Twenty Years

CHANGED IN YEAR 1907

The Western Kentucky State Normal School, the largest of institutions, is a comparatively new school, only a little more than twenty years old as a state institution. The school has made rapid progress during that time, and students attending at the present time are finding admirable equipment in a par with any educational institution in the state.

The Western Kentucky State Normal School, as the local school was known until just a few years ago, was brought into existence by an act of the General Assembly of 1907. By this act two State Normal Schools were established to serve the entire state. One of these was to be located here.

By a special arrangement entered into between the owners of the Southern Normal School and the State, the Southern Normal which had been operated here since 1901, became a state institution dedicated to the training of the teachers at Western Kentucky.

This change was formally made in 1907.

During the ensuing four years, the Southern Normal occupied the building which had been located here since 1901. In the year 1911, the institution was transferred to its present site. The State acquired the grounds and buildings of Potter College.

An important chapter in the history of the school is the classification of teachers as near weak-

WESTERN'S PRESIDENT

Dr. H. H. Cherry, president of Western Teachers College since its organization, has seen many of his dreams realized during the growth of the local school to one of the foremost educational institutions in the state.

Dr. Cherry is a native of Warren county and during his entire professional career has been connected with Bowling Green institutions.

Questions Answered For Prospective Students of Teachers College Here

The following questions are answered for prospective students of Western Teachers College by a bulletin of the school:

1. You shouldn't unless you are a native-born, American-born, intelligent and lively children.

2. If you meet these conditions no other field of activity offers the opportunity to affect the thought and ideals of the world.

3. More and more teaching will come to be regarded as work demanding the energies of strong men and women. The old classification of teachers as near weak-

ARRANGEMENT ARTISTIC

"As beautiful as capitol grounds" is the description that is made of College Heights, the high point of the crest of the city, that is the Teachers College grounds. On College Heights the main structure of the institution have been and are being erected.

The old Potter College building, known as Restoration Hall, has been entirely renovated, and is increasing in condition.

The Administration Building contains the executive offices, the auditorium and five class rooms. The Manual Arts Building contains equipment for classes in wood, metal, and cement working. The Cedar House erected by students for saving temporary quarters.

The Training School is the place in the South conducted by a state teachers college. Miss Hall provides an excellent home for all students in the field of Music.

The Household Arts Building is constructed and arranged according to the most modern thought in Household Arts Education. The Gymnasium is the home of the Physical Education and Athletic Department. Potter Hall provides quarters for 350 girls, and has dining equipment to accommodate 100 students. The Central Heating Plant is furnishing heat for the entire plant. The Stadium and Athletic field is one of the country's most picturesque. There is ample waiting space for 1,000. The Library, constructed of stone, and probably the school's most beautiful building will be ready for occupancy.

Student City Hidden Away In Clump of Cedars Behind School

OVER 300 RESIDE THERE Settlement Was Started As Experiment During Oil Boom

An unusual village of unique construction may well describe Cherryton, the student city hidden away in a clump of cedars on the rear of College Heights on the property of Western Teachers College.

Started mainly as an experiment at a time when rooming was due to an oil boom overrunning the city, the student town has grown until now there are over three hundred inhabitants of the village.

Nothing else originated and put into operation by the school has given so much satisfaction as an opportunity offered by the village.

It is especially attractive to those who prefer to reside in a little home of their own while attending school. It offers an economic arrangement for a cozy room, or two or more, where light housekeeping can be done. Students getting their room easy in Cherryton on the basis of a four-year lease, and pay a longer time, all the way from $10 to $15 per month. Through a proper use of the opportunities offered they may secure excellent board with 10 cents per day.

Cherryton is located among the cedars and vines which embellish the natural beauty of College Heights. At this writing there are 74 cottages of five different types that have been constructed and are occupied. Electric lights have been provided; central bath houses for men and women have been constructed.

Cherryton is a bi-monthly designed to give official announcements and news with regards to the activities of the institution. This paper is sent free to anyone who will make a request for it.

WESTERN HAS BEEN ADDING TO BUILDINGS

Library, Heating Plant, Stadium Among Foremost Additions

CABEL HALL IS NO MORE

Asphalt roads, being laid All Over Campus of School

The most extensive improvement program ever undertaken by Western Teachers College is nearing completion and, as a result of the months of work, the "Hill" presents an almost entirely different appearance. Construction of an immense white stone building to be the library is about completed. The workmen already are at work on the interior of the structure.

This building which cost $250,000 is said by many to be even more beautiful than the Administration Building of the school and is ranked as one of the most beautiful buildings in Bowling Green. It is three stories in height. A portion of the structure will be devoted to class rooms. This building was constructed on the site of old Cabell Hall.

Cabell Hall has gone. Its stones have been used in constructing a handsome building with stately columns that has been placed on the South side of College Heights. The Home Economics department has been housed there and is well equipped for the needs of that department.

The Frank M. Thomas home for many years was the only property on the college side of the street in that section that did not belong to the college property. This place was recently purchased and an addition was made to the house in making it useful as a home for the Department of Home Economics. The Home Economics building and the two stone structures add much to a section of the campus once full of underbrush and rocks.

The new athletic stadium in the old quarry at the rear of the administration building of College Heights is the heating plant which centralized the various heating units.

Asphalt roads are now being constructed through the campus and other work of beautifying the grounds is being done. The task was not undertaken until all plans had been made by a landscape gardener, and as a result of the careful preparation the "Hill" and its adjoining buildings are becoming one of the most beautiful pieces of property, owned by the State of Kentucky.

THREE PAPERS AT WESTERN BESIDES REGULAR CATALOG

Herald, Talisman Are Edited And Managed By Student Body

In addition to the annual catalog of the school, three publications are regularly issued from the Hill. Two of these publications are edited and printed under the direction of members of the student body.

The College Heights Herald is a school newspaper managed by a staff chosen from the student body. It is published monthly and all of its issues are well edited and practically all of the contributions are excellently well written. It is published monthly as a forum for students and teachers alike in addition to giving all of the news of the school.

The College Heights Talisman has been successful since its organization. Its standard size is eight pages, the pages being standard sized columns.

The other student publication is the Talisman, which is a pictorial annual showing life on College Heights. It is issued annually by the members of the student body. It appears usually in February or March.

College Heights is a bi-monthly designed to give official announcements and news with regards to the activities of the institution. This paper is sent free to anyone who will make a request for it.

Breakfast In Subway—BOSTON—Tardy workers hastening to their jobs this morning have had a chance to gulp some Boston baked beans for breakfast while waiting for trolley or train. It is a new breakfast service, practicable. Small pots of beans at popular prices would be vended at subway news stands by the concessionaire.

Inside the operation of the farm owned by the state and an additional farm of sixty acres on which general farm crops are grown. Ample opportunity is provided for students to visit live stock farms in the vicinity. Some of the farms visited are the R. C. P. Thomas dairy farm with thirty purebred Jersey cattle, the live stock farm of M. D. Alexander and Son with twenty purebred short horn cattle and the sheep farm of S. K. Warren.

Annual excursions are made to the experiment stations at Greenville and Princeton where results of fertilizer treatment are observed. Samples of soils are obtained from these stations for analysis in the school laboratories.

The classroom and laboratory facilities for instruction in agriculture include agronomy laboratory, horticulture laboratory, dairy laboratory, chemistry and soils laboratory and bacteriology laboratory. The laboratory work in animal husbandry and agronomy is conducted at the farm.

The agronomy laboratory is equipped with 24 students. Adequate supplies of seed and grain are provided for classroom work. The horticulture laboratory and equipment includes pruning tools, copper sprayer, barrel sprayer and hand sack sprayer for use of orchards and truck crops. Laboratory instruction in these courses is conducted in the school farms.

The dairy laboratory embraces locker space and equipment for 24 students. All necessary chemicals, glassware and equipment are provided for these courses.

The bacteriology work is conducted in the general biology laboratory. This laboratory is equipped with microscopes, autoclave, incubators, glassware and prepared slides necessary for successful instruction.

Biology laboratories provide adequate facilities for students in botany, zoology, physiology and bacteriology. Case studies are supplied with adequate locker space and desks for 100 students working in sections. Adequate number of microscopes and other necessary equipment is provided for instruction.

A large number of preserved specimens of plant and animal life are on exhibit in the laboratories. In addition to these specimens are collected from the surrounding territory and from supply houses for daily use in class.

equipped with modern plumbing fixtures; water has been piped conveniently. Cherryton was laid out by Henry Wright of Kansas City, the landscape architect of the school.

The plan adopted for financing the cost of Cherryton is briefly as follows: The student or students pay the institution the exact amount of the cost of the building. The house then becomes his home. No subsequent assessments are made and he may retain possession for four years, or for the length of the lease. After the expiration of the lease the house becomes the property of the institution. The owners of these houses have a right to admit students and their families.

Cherryton is a community of kindred spirits and common aims. It has its own government. The student or students who live in the house and the civic spirit forward-looking. The village itself is a demonstration of the spirit of cooperation and good citizenship.

The sanitary conditions in Cherryton are excellent. Everything that will advance civic attractiveness, wholesome environment and good health is done.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

the threshold of your career—ponder these things well.

Why Train for Teaching? — "We know now that teachers are both 'born' and 'made.' We can't change the innate qualities of teachers, but we have a definite obligation as to the development of those qualities."

1.—Personality is regarded as the outstanding teaching asset. Personality, however, responds to contact with the various fields of human achievement.

2.—The trained teacher demands respect—his own and other people's. The world carries a profound respect for experience.

Why Train at Western? — It is a member of the American Association of Teachers. Colleges, the Association of Kentucky Colleges and Universities, and the Southern Association of Colleges. These memberships should give assurance of quality of work done and the acceptance of credits elsewhere.

3.—It is located in a city famed for the culture of its people, and for the beauty of its streets and homes.

4.—The location of the institution is unsurpassed in point of general beauty and inspirational values. Further, buildings and equipment—generous provision lately having been made—are now rapidly approaching adequacy.

5.—Free tuition is offered Kentuckyans. Expenses are held to the minimum, and abundant opportunities for self-help offered.

6.—Ample opportunities for self-expression are offered all students. In class activities, Every student is assigned to the group, senior, junior, etc., to which he belongs. A regular organization is maintained and meetings held. Debates, orations, musical numbers and dramatic performances occur on every program.

(b) In general "opportunities." The school of music offers under its auspices membership in the band, the orchestra, and in the capella chorus.

(c) In clubs. Every department has organized a club composed of students whose major interests lie in that particular field. Those clubs have achieved remarkable prominence in the school's life.

(d) In athletics. The institution maintains a varsity and a freshman team in every major field of athletic activity. The membership of the institution in the Southern Association of Colleges assures the quality and integrity of the sports offered.

7.—The school brings to its students the outstanding artists of the world. Notable among those who have appeared are: Braslav, Schuman, Beethoven, Homer, Hempel, Elman, Spalding, Melius. Among those who have appeared are: W. Gilkey, Bishop, Freeman, Edward H. Griggs, William Starr Myers, Leon H. Vincent.

8.—The institution uses all its available intelligence in finding for its graduates the positions for which they are best fitted. Of course, no charge is made for this service, and the assistance of the Southern Association of Colleges is available to the student.

Woman Smoker Wins From Men Opponents
BURLING, Sept. 28.—(By Associated Press).—Mia Katachke recently astounded fifty veteran male smokers by grabbing off first prize in a contest as to who could pull longest at the weed.

The competitive smoking match was staged at Luna Park, Berlin's Coney Island. Fifty male smokers had just received a Havana, each and were about to demonstrate who could make his cigar last longest, when young Mia Katachke entered the stage, took the proffered cigar and found, after keeping the weed on fire for two hours and fifteen minutes, that she had established a new record and been acclaimed Queen of Smokers. She was presented with a $100 cigar.

A pillow may be washed just as it is, but a better method is as follows: Transfer the feathers to a larger cotton bag by sewing the edges of its opening in the edges of the opening in the tick. Shake the feathers from one to the other. Sew up the opening and wash in lukewarm water, using a neutral soap. Rinse well. Press out as much of the water as possible and place on a cloth in the sun. FIELDS ASKS VET OF "BULL RUN" GIVE INFORMATION

Confederate or Union Soldier Taking Part Is Sought

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 28. (The Associated Press)—Will any Confederate or Union veteran who took part in the battle of Manassas or Bull Run (July 1861 and August 1862) please step forward.

Such is the request of Governor William J. Fields, who wishes information regarding "those" two battles and what part Kentuckians played in the fights.

W. H. Ewing, president of the Manassas Battlefield Confederate Park, has written the Governor the following information concerning the battle:

"What troops of your state took part in either battle and where on those fields located during the battle or battles?"

"What incidents, if any, of especial worth took place there?"

"Who, if it may now be known, most distinguished himself there and how?"

"What monuments or markers should your state have on either field and where should it or they be located?"

Ewing also asked the Governor to appoint a committee to visit the battle fields and make a report on the battle fields and plans to landscape and mark the battle sites as they occurred.

He suggested to the Governor that a Commission be appointed to visit the battle fields and make a report on the battle fields and plans to landscape and mark the battle sites as they occurred.

The Governor says he could not much of this information from his files, but would like to get some of the information first hand from some of the veterans and wishes all veterans or members of their family familiar with the battle and the part Kentucky's troops took in it to communicate with him at the Capitol. The Commission will be appointed later, the Governor suggested.

The battlefields are located on the Lee Highway 25 miles from Washington.

Ewing in writing says "we hope to make it the largest battlefield museum in the country," and asks for any old confederate or union flag, state insignia, or other relics that veterans should be asked to refrain from flying at low altitude over these institutions.

High Above Hospitals

Recitation Hall Dean of All

Recitation hall is the oldest and largest building of the Western campus. This building was the main structure of the old Pleasant J. Potter College, a girl's institution that was formerly located on the hill. After the purchase of the property by the state, the building was used as a recitation hall.

Recently it was completely renovated, $100,000 being spent in making the structure entirely modern. The training school building the classrooms used for that purpose were turned over to the college department.

Gold Turn Fellowship
LONDON, Sept. 28. (The Associated Press)—Gold turn fellowship, according to a notice issued by the admiralty, the naval office says there has been a considerable increase in the number of sailors applying to join the police force.
Because of the demand for seamen and sailors, men of these classifications will be selected for police service as formerly except in special circumstances.

MENUS FOR THE FAMILY

Breakfast: 1 cup cereal, 1 cup milk, 1 cup coffee.
Lunch: 1 cup potato and onion soup, 1 cup chicken, 1 cup milk, 1 cup coffee.
Dinner: 1 cup chicken, 1 cup milk, 1 cup coffee.
Supper: 1 cup chicken, 1 cup milk, 1 cup coffee.

Try this: Cover with a smooth, even layer of brown sugar and put over a low fire until the sugar begins to melt. Pare and halve peaches. Remove stones and range. The peaches should cover the spot. Sprinkle with nuts and raisins. Fill space between fruit. Beat yolks of eggs until thick and slowly beat in half the granulated sugar. Beat in boiling water and remaining sugar. Mix with flour. Add to first mixture and stir until smooth. Add vanilla and fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff. Bake over peaches in a greased and baked in a moderate oven for 25 minutes. Remove from oven and invert on a serving plate. Garnish with whipped cream and nuts.

Ten Eastern Football Teams Mobilize Under "Czar" Okeson

NEW YORK (By Associated Press).—New divisions added to old, with interlocking dependencies, including the strongest teams together in something approximating a "Big Ten" feature the mobilization of football armies for the 1927 battles in the eastern front.

For the first time an organization of leading teams entrusting supervisory authority to one man will function. Eastern football "czar" conference, so-called, including Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Army, Navy, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Brown and Dartmouth, came into being with the passing of the ancient triple alliance of Harvard, Princeton and Yale.

In the many games between these teams this season, complete authority for selection of officials will be wielded by Walter I. Okeson of Lehigh, chosen "czar" by representatives of the ten.

On the old vexed question of "coaching" also many of the leading teams are cooperating. All opponents of Yale have agreed to non-coaching terms and RFA head has been followed widely.

An inter-extension of rivalries among the ten or twelve leading teams as well as a new cooperation on such questions as choice of referees followed the storied controversy last fall when Princeton's world without a Harvard-Princeton game this season.

For the first time in 17 years Harvard turned to Penn. while Princeton scheduled this state in the Crimson's place and has rejected relations with Cornell. Penn had voted Brown and Navy in support of the big new battles of the year.

One of the toughest tasks in the country is ahead of Penn with

SUMMER SCHOOL AT WESTERN OPENS ON JUNE EIGHTH, NEXT

The summer school of 1928 will open June 4 and continue in session eleven weeks. It will consist of two terms, the first one of five weeks and the second one of six weeks. The second term will open July 3. The first term will last only five weeks for the first time.

Both twelve hours of college credit may be made during the two terms.

The regular faculty with one or two exceptions, offer courses during both terms of the summer school. In addition, a number of specialists have been secured to give additional work. Many attractive features in the way of entertainments have also been provided.

HILLCREST, SERVING STUDENTS, IS PRETTY AND MODERN BUILDING

One of the most attractive of several student homes, serving Western Teachers' College and other schools in the city is Hillcrest, located at the corner of Fifth and College streets and owned by the students. In addition to a large number of rooms, especially designed for the accommodation of students, a cafeteria is maintained that serves over 100 students, 100 in the section.

Hillcrest is a beautiful building, being constructed of stone and having a fine lawn. Some of the "arrangements" taken down the excavation for the basement.

This building is modern throughout and is the only one of its kind in Bowling Green.

HARDY TREES ARE SENT TO NATION'S GROVE COMMITTEE

Memorials To Be Planted In Golden Gate Park In San Francisco

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 25. (By Associated Press.)—Two hardy mountain trees from the Kentucky Natural Bridge State Park area have been forwarded to the National Memorial Grove Committee, Mrs. Loretta I. Henkel, chairman, for planting in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, California. In this grove the trees, one a mountain ash, and each about five feet in height, will be set out, together with others from every State in the Union, to be dedicated to Mother Nature.

DAYS OF HUNTING JOBS FOR SCHOOL STUDENTS ARRIVE

Many of Them Must Work To Obtain Their Educations

CHICAGO. (By Associated Press.)—Job hunting days for college men are here. Y. M. C. A. secretaries are dusting off their card indexes and preparing to help those who must labor in order to study. The newest wrinkle in collegiate working circles is "red capping." Virtually all the baggage incars employed at the Union Station in Chicago by the Pennsylvania railroad are college men.
